GOVERNMENT TROOPS GETTING CONTROL OF AFRICAN REVOLUTION

Nearly 200 Killed and 1,000 Wounded in Terrific Battle Around Johannesburg, Union of South Africa Over the Week End.

Johannesburg, Union of South Africa, March 13.—Government forces engaged with the rebels in the mine fields are advancing along the entire line. Government leaders say that the whole military situation now favors the government. All the western and northern side of the Reef are now held by government troops.

WIDESPREAD BRITISH UNREST PREVAILS

Four sections of the British empire today, are seething with political unrest. They are South Africa, India, Egypt and Ireland. Open rebellion has been proclaimed. A state of actual warfare exists in the Rand mine fields of South Africa, where government troops are trying to put down the uprising. Disorders are reported from India where Mohandas Gandhi, chief leader of the nationalists is under arrest. Political reforms promised to Egypt have for the time being allayed fighting in that quarter. A strong faction of the Irish republican army is supporting Eamon DeValera in his demand for a republic in Ireland. Three of the British overseas dominions remaining tranquil are Canada, Australia and New Zealand.

ment troops under General Brit. General Van Deventer's government forces are crowding back the rebels. Heavy fighting is anticipated in the Benoni and Brakpan regions.

Continuous attacks with airplanes are being carried out against the revolutionaries. The rebels are being bombed and fired upon with machine guns.

Trench warfare is threatened in the Johannesburg sector. The rebels hold the town and have thrown up earthworks all around it.

Houses at Benoni and Boksburg have been fired in reprisal for the death of a woman from a mob.

Nearly 200 have been killed and more than 1,000 wounded in the terrific battle between government forces and revolutionaries for possession of the western suburbs. The rebellion grew out of the mine strike on the Rand.

Estimates of the casualties vary. It is believed that at least 180 were killed in the fighting on Friday and Saturday.

Large forces of farmers have responded to Premier General Smuts' call for volunteers to help the government troops.

General Smuts is directing the operations of the government troops in person. He declared that the position of the loyal forces is strong and that it should not take long to put down the uprising.

The regular infantry is supported by artillery, airplanes and armored cars.

"The present revolutionary movement is the work of extremist agitators who have used the strike in the mine fields as a cloak for dissemination of the syndicalist views among the many workers who were unable to detect the danger and the futility of the campaign," said General Smuts.

"The military positions are well in hand and with the cooperation of loyal citizens who are actively supporting the government, it should not take long to reestablish peaceful conditions."

"A general strike has been declared throughout the union of South Africa but the mass of workers and trade unionists in the centers of population outside the Rand have refused to be stampeded into it. The outstanding feature of the situation has been the behavior of the native population, who have

Six men and one woman were killed and several of the injured are not expected to live.

House To Go Ahead With Bonus Despite Mellon

Fordney Announces That Ways and Means Committee Will Follow Program of Passing Bill Week From Monday.

Washington, March 12.—Republican members of the ways and means committee decided to delay action on the bonus bill for another 24 hours. It had been intended to report the bill today, but after a meeting of the committee this morning Chairman Fordney announced it would not be presented until tomorrow.

Several changes were made in the bill today, chief among which was a reduction from 40 to 25 per cent in the amount proposed for farm and home settlement aid to ex-soldiers. Other changes were unimportant, Fordney said.

Washington, March 13.—In the face of Secretary of the Treasury Mellon's latest condemnation of the soldier bonus bill, Rep. Fordney of Michigan, chairman of the house ways and means committee, announced today that the committee would go ahead with its program of passing the bill a week from today and declared that the measure would be formally laid before the house during the day.

Republican members of the committee met this morning to make minor changes in the compromise measure.

Although Fordney declined to comment on Mellon's letter, in which the secretary objected to the committee's bill because of provisions for loans by national banks on adjusted service certificates, he said that the Republicans had expected such criticism to come from the treasury department before the bill was reported to the house. It was his opinion that the plans of Republican leaders to jam the bill through regardless of opposition from the White House or the treasury would not be changed.

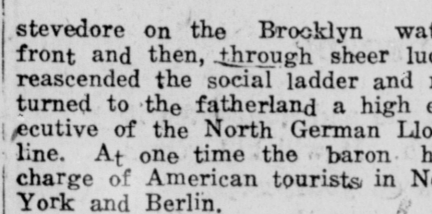

The Mellon letter was freely discussed when the committee members got together today, but they were not inclined to agree with the secretary's statement that "frozen credits" and inflation of currency would result from the operation of the compensation scheme they have determined upon as a substitute for the original cash feature of the bill.

Chairman Fordney remained hopeful that the bonus bill in its present form would not be so displeasing to President Harding after he studied its provision as to cause him to veto the measure after it gets through congress. It was admitted, however, that the flat condemnation of secretary Mellon might go far to influence the attitude of the president in view of his reiterated purpose to stand pat on his demand for a sales tax to raise the money for compensation or the postponement of the bonus until the treasury was in better condition to meet the new demands.

Minor amendments and changes in phraseology were to be agreed upon by the Republicans of the ways and means committee today.

The most important of these amendments was the elimination of the provision which would compel ex-service men to make a decision within six months after the reenactment of the law which of the five compensation offers they would accept. The committee now proposes to make it possible for the veteran to delay his decision indefinitely in order that no beneficiary may be excluded from the advantages of the measure because of his slowness in letting the government know just what he wants to do.

New York, March 13.—Three corporations and eight nationally known business men today were named in indictments returned in the United States district court charging violation of the anti-trust act in maintaining an alleged monopoly in gas appliances.

REGARD STRIKE IN COAL MINES AS INEVITABLE

Government Officials Are Renewing Efforts to Prevent Tie-Up.

MOVES ARE PLANNED

Still Seek Conference Between Operators and Miners.

Washington, March 13.—While a strike of soft coal miners is regarded as virtually certain, government officials renewed their efforts today to bring about a conference between the operators and miners as provided for in the 1920 pact. Secretary of Labor Davis, although disappointed at the attitude of certain operators in failing to agree to a council table gathering is making other moves that may win over the rebellious operators. What these moves are he declined to say, holding that their effect might be lost if they were publicly discussed at this time.

Officials who are handling the threatened bituminous strike are awaiting with close interest the outcome of the conference between the operators and anthracite miners, which will be held in New York on March 15.

Word has reached here that some of the important groups of operators are "going back to the November 1917 scale with the miners and are determined to go back to that scale whether or not the miners agree."

These operators claim that present living conditions and the state of the coal market warrants both sides to return to the 1917 scale. According to information that has reached officials handling the strike situation the operators are perfectly willing to go along with the union men, but they are determined that nothing shall deter them from going back to the 1917 scale.

Thus a virtual deadlock has been reached in the negotiations which Secretary Davis has put under way to bring the opposing sides together. Secretary Davis and his advisers are now casting about for some plan to break the deadlock.

ARBuckle GOES ON TRIAL MONDAY FOR THIRD TIME

Expect Jury Selection Will Take Most of the Week.

San Francisco, March 13.—Roscoe C. Arbuckle, motion picture comedian, will go to trial today for the third time on charges of manslaughter growing out of the death on September 9, 1921, of Miss Virginia Rappe an actress.

Miss Rappe's death followed a drinking party in Arbuckle's suite in the hotel St. Francis.

It is expected that the process of selecting a jury will occupy the greater part of the week.

The jury in the first trial voted 10 to 2 for acquittal and in the second 10 to 2 for conviction.

Both sides have promised to introduce evidence in the forthcoming trial that was not introduced in either of the others.

However, the prosecution probably will lack one of its chief prosecuting witnesses, Miss Zey Prevost, who left the state after the second trial and has refused to return.

LLOYD GEORGE WILL MAKE STATEMENT

London, March 13.—That Premier Lloyd George will make a statement in parliament upon the political unrest in India as soon as he returns from his vacation at Criccieth, Wales, was intimated today. A dispatch from the Welsh town quotes the premier as saying he will answer the assertions of E. S. Montagu, former secretary for India, upon the floor of the house of commons. It is understood that Mr. Montagu's resignation was forced by the premier because of the former's pro-muslim policy.

PEDDLERS ARE BLAMED

Youngstown, O., March 13.—Police are working on the theory that Paul Sgambatti, 43, Italian, who was shot and killed last night, was murdered by rascals jack peddlers. The dead man had been active in assisting dry officials for evidence in liquor cases. A .32 calibre revolver was tightly clutched in Sgambatti's hands and a stiletto was found concealed in his shirt. A search warrant issued to a prohibition officer was found on the body. Police are holding five suspects including a woman.

SEEK PERPETRATOR OF BOMB OUTRAGE ON U. S. LEGATION

Attack is Made On American Post In Sofia.

Sofia Bulgaria, March 13.—The police today are searching for the person or persons who bombed the U. S. legion on Saturday night. The building was only slightly damaged and American Minister Wilson was absent at the time. The Bulgarian government has apologized to the American diplomat, and promised that every effort would be made to find and punish the guilty person or persons.

The bomb was thrown shortly before 8 o'clock, and landed in the garden of the legation. The fact that this part of the legation was without lights and that no one was there at the time seems to indicate that the perpetrator of the outrage had no intention of killing any one.

STILL EXPLOSION IS BLAMED FOR BLAZE

Athens, March 13.—Fire which early Sunday did damage estimated at $40,000,000 to the Old First National Bank Building, was believed by officers to have originated from the explosion of a still in a room in the building. Officials say they found a liquor-manufacturing outfit in the ruins and have arrested W. C. Foster, a lively stable employee, in connection with their investigation. Foster's room was across the hall from the offices of Prosecutor W. B. Bartels.

Heaviest losses from the fire were sustained by the Home Furnishing Co., the C. C. Milliken jewelry store and the Security Savings Bank. Fire men fought the blaze for about five hours.

PLEADS GUILTY TO CHARGE OF LARCENY

Victor McCall, said to be a well-to-do farmer, living near Yellow Springs pleaded guilty Monday morning in Magistrate J. E. Jones' court to a charge of petit larceny in connection with the stealing of coal from the Pennsylvania Railroad.

McCall, who operated a 150 acre farm, has been boarding trains on the Springfield division of the road, and throwing off the coal he needed, according to railroad officials. He was arrested Monday morning by Railroad Detective Latimer and Deputy Sheriff Birch, and arraigned on the petit larceny charge. He was fined $25 and costs, which he paid.

ORATORY AIMED ON FOUR POWER PACIFIC TREATY

Senators Borah, Johnson and LaFollette Begin Attack.

JOIN DEMOCRATS

Lodge Claims to Have Enough Votes to Ratify Pact.

Washington, March 13.—All of the explosive oratorical fire of Senators Borah, Johnson and LaFollette was concentrated on the four-power Pacific treaty in the senate today in a final "drive" against its ratification.

The three Republican "irreconcilables" stood fighting the new pact as furiously as they attacked the Versailles treaty and its league of nations.

But they found themselves in the strange position of battling against the four-power treaty with the Democratic senators whom they fought in the long struggle over the league. Their present antagonists were the Republican senators with whom they joined in preventing ratification of the Versailles pact.

The whirligig of politics had changed their senatorial allies, but had failed to abate their unyielding hostility to what they construed as "entangling alliances."

It was the intention of Senator Lodge, the Republican leader, to wait until the opposition to the four power treaty has talked itself out and then press for a final vote on ratification before the end of the week if possible.

Both Lodge and Underwood, the Democratic leader, still claimed to have enough votes to ratify the pact by a small margin once the oratorical onslaughts on it subside. But with Borah, Johnson and LaFollette aided and abetted by equally experienced debaters on the Democratic side like Reed and Robinson, both Lodge and Underwood conceded that there was no telling when the show down on ratification would come.

Efforts to pair the increasing number of absent senators were continued by the two leaders, but the Democratic senators opposed to them were reported to be standing out against all pairs. Senators Stanford, Republican, of Oregon, and Jones, Democrat of New Mexico, were added to the list of missing ones, both being compelled to return home by the pressure of private business. Stanford is for the treaty, Jones against it.

NAME CURRIE AND BOXWELL TO STATE BASKETBALL TEAM

Captain Paul Boxwell of Xenia Central High basketball team is the second best high school center in the state and Don Currie, is second best guard, according to selections of so-called all-Ohio quintet picked at the Ohio Wesleyan tournament at Delaware, which closed Saturday with Mt. Vernon declared state champions.

Captain Boxwell was selected as the second best all-southern center last week, and he holds the center position on the latest selections. His choice of the job is remarkable considering the fact that the local team leader is by all standards a guard, and never played center until the illness of "Doc" Lones made it necessary for him to be shifted to that position late this season.

It is believed that his defensive with Springfield was a big factor in showing the tournament game his selection.

The choice of Don Currie as guard on the mythical second team, is odd, in that he was not mentioned as an all-star selection during the southern division rounds. This had started the present season as a substitute. His defensive play in the Delaware game is believed to have earned him his all-star selection.

Of the other Xenia men mentioned in the all-star selections "Squeak" Vannorsdall, is given honorable mention as a forward and Yeakley, is given all-star honorable mention among the guards. The first three teams selected follow: First team—Armstrong of Greenfield; center, Smith of Mt. Vernon, guards, Cunningham of Mt. Vernon and Turney of Delaware; second team—Brands of Woodward Tech and Kirk of Canton, McKinley; center, Boxwell, of Xenia, guards, Currie of Xenia and Burke of Fostoria; third team—Morgan of Cambridge, bridge and Debolt, of East Liverpool; center, Coughlin, of Woodward Tech; guards, McMurdy of Canton McKinley and Seibert of Dayton Steele.

Mt. Vernon captured the Ohio high school championship at Delaware Saturday by defeating Delaware High, southern division champs 33 to 17, after winning the northern division honors from Fostoria by a 34 to 19 score. Delaware won the southern division honors by defeating Greenfield McClain 34 to 20. It is interesting to note that Delaware only eliminated Xenia Central by two points in the semi-finals, whereas the Delaware team rolled up a 14 point lead over Greenfield in the finals Saturday.

GERMAINE BALL GIVEN BERTH ON WESTERN TEAM

Germaine "Bruno" Ball, son of Mrs. John G. Hornick of this city, and former Central High School football and basketball star, who is now attending the Phoenix, Ariz., High School has been selected as center and captain of the mythical all-Arizona high school team, and also unanimously chosen captain of the Phoenix High School 1922-23 court five.

The Phoenix High five recently won the Arizona High School championship in the tournament conducted at the University of Arizona at Tucson.

"Jerry Ball of Phoenix was the outstanding star of the series and not only won the center position on the all state five but was unanimously declared captain of the state team."

The all star selection was made by University of Arizona officials, and D. A. Montgomery of the Tucson Citizen, Montgomery has the following to say: "Ball looked to be the best prospect on the floor and is without doubt one of the strongest men seen in high school circles in years."

SEEK PRISONERS WHO ESCAPED FROM JAIL

Marquette, Mich., March 13.—State police are continuing a search in all parts of the upper Michigan Peninsula for three long term prisoners from the state reformatory, who, with two others, escaped from the institution Saturday night. Two of the escaped convicts were recaptured in a swamp near the prison shortly after they broke through the roof of the reformatory.

The men still at large are Roman Alizczak, white; John Mitchell and Edward Turner, negroes. The two recaptured were Steve Madaja and John Wilelski.

The five tore a large plank from a partition in the reformatory bathroom and used it to batter a hole through the plaster of the ceiling and then through the slate roof, making a hole through which they wormed their way.

Marquette prison was the scene of an uprising among inmates some time ago that resulted in the death of Warden T. B. Catlin and Deputy Warden James McEnnert.

AMERICAN LEGION SAYS SOLDIERS NOT MISTREATED

Cincinnati, March 13.—Charges made recently to the effect that former soldiers were being mistreated at Longview hospital for the insane were denied emphatically in a report issued last night by a committee representing three posts of the American Legion. The charges made by Judge Robert S. Marx, president of the disabled veterans of the world war, attracted national attention and brought forth criticism of heads of the institution. The committee in its report filed last night declared the former soldiers were receiving the best of treatment and were surrounded by the most pleasant conditions possible.

Cleveland, March 13.—One of those who make their "hard goods at home" are blaming their downfall on the wind today. The police followed the smell to its source and found forty-three fifty gallon barrels full of mash, one fifty gallon and two thirty gallon stills and thirty gallons of the distilled product.

OFFER PLAN TO END LIQUOR RUNNING

Washington, March 13.—Negotiations of "liquor treaties" with Great Britain and Cuba, as aids in putting an end to rum smuggling into this country, was said last night by high internal revenue officials to have been advocated by Prohibition Commissioner Haynes. Treaties were desired, it was explained, to handle the Canadian border situation and to better control exports of liquor from Cuba, the Bahamas, Bermuda and to this country.

Prohibition officials also have under discussion a proposal for declaring rum-running vessels to be pirates through negotiation with foreign nations looking to the cancellation of the registry of such ships. Many of the larger liquor ships carrying illicit cargoes of alcohol, it was said, anchor just outside the limit of customs jurisdiction, and send the cargo ashore in small boats. The war upon these craft is being successfully waged, officials asserted, but the cargo vessels are beyond the reach of the law. If they sailed without proper registry papers they would be branded as pirates, outside the law and the lawful prize of every navy in the world.

At the state department it was said no proposals for negotiations of this sort, are under consideration as yet. International discussion of American prohibition would involve many difficult questions, it was declared.

JOHNSON FLAYS FOUR POWER PACT IN SENATE MONDAY

Washington, March 13.—The four power Pacific treaty was flayed in the senate today as a "quadruple alliance, which exposes the American people to danger of war," by Senator Hiram Johnson, of California, Republican "irreconcilable."

Johnson demanded "if the Anglo-Japanese alliance was considered a menace to the United States why this country should be 'forced into a compact with the two nations who composed it under a threat of war.'"

Do those who favor the four power treaty assert that Great Britain under any circumstances would make war upon us?" Johnson inquired.

"I do not believe it. So they intend to infer that Japan was ready to strike at us, or was only awaiting a favorable opportunity to catch us off our guard and then attack us."

"But if that were the attitude of Japan toward us, and pro-treaty senators are hinting at it, then I for one want no alliance with her. If any country is to be so little trusted that we must believe that she lies in wait for our ruin and destruction then no agreement like the four power pact can either alter her intention or postpone the day of reckoning."

AMERICAN CLAIMS FOR PAYMENT ARE STRONGLY UPHELD

Washington, March 13.—The apparent attitude of the allied powers that "America can wait" for the $241,000,000 owed us for keeping American troops on the Rhine, or else proceed to collect it from impoverished Germany direct, was officially characterized today as "utterly indefensible from every point of view."

No legal or moral ground exists on which the allies can question the justice of the validity of the American demand for prompt payment. It was stated by a high administration spokesman. Accompanying this positive declaration of America's position was an indication that the administration intends to proceed vigorously in the matter.

The state department was still without official advice today confirming the action taken by the allied experts in referring the American demand to their respective governments. Just as soon, however, Roland W. Boyden, the American representative on the reparations commission, forwards his official report there is every indication that the state department will file a sharp protest over the action taken. The extremely cold reception which greeted the American demand for reimbursement followed by the anti-American outbursts in the French press, have combined to produce a feeling of indignation and irritation on the part of the administration officials that was unmistakable today.

It is regarded as virtually certain that a series of diplomatic exchanges imminent between the United States and the allied governments which will carry the American viewpoint abroad with considerable vigor. Officials characterized as "ridiculous" today the arguments advanced abroad that the American position is insecure because of failure to ratify the Versailles treaty and because it is insecure because of failure to ratify the Versailles treaty and because of non-participation in collecting indemnity funds from Germany.

HOLD MEMORIAL SERVICES FOR COL. YOUNG ON SUNDAY

In keeping with the proclamation issued by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People to hold Memorial services on Sunday, March 12 in honor of the late Col. Charles Young, who died a few weeks ago in Liberia, Africa, the local society at Wilberforce University held services at two o'clock in honor of the distinguished soldier, and citizen in the auditorium of Galloway Hall.

The auditorium was decorated with flags and bunting while the stage was decorated with bunting and flowers. In the center of the front of the stage a large oil painting of Col. Young stood, and was heavily decorated with a large American flag and white lilies. Many distinguished citizens were present from the surrounding cities and towns who were intimately associated with Col. Young during his residence at the school.

The exercises opened with a song entitled "Star Spangled Banner," and was followed by the invocation by Rev. P. S. Hill, Dean Gilbert H. Jones, representing President John A. Gregg who is absent, in the cast, made the opening remarks, stating the nature of the meeting. He stated that Col. Young was twice sent to the Government to take charge of the Military department of the school that Col. Young was a graduate from West Point, because of his training he was competent to teach any of the subjects in the school, and was very enthusiastic in anything he undertook to do. "If Col. Young had been a member of any other race," declared the speaker, "I dare say he would have been elevated to the highest place in the gift of the army." He then appealed to the young men to knock and knock at the door of West Point until their knocks were heard and then prepare themselves to take the vacant place left by Col. Young.

Dr. Frank Johnson, of Cincinnati, President of the C. N. I. Board, and who was a boy with Col. Young at his old home in Ripley, Ohio, spoke of his life in the grade schools, that he always had an ambition to graduate and take the competitive examination to enter West Point, that he lived to see him enter West Point and graduate with honors. He appealed to the young men to follow Col. Young's example and not be scared with rumors that West Point would make it hard for them, but stand the hardships and complete the training for a good soldier.

Chaplain T. G. Steward, representing the General Faculty of the school, spoke on the life of Col. Young as he knew him in the army and in the Philippine Islands. Mr. R. A. Braxton, representing the East High School, spoke of Col. Young as known by the citizens of that city. Mr. Baxter Scuggs, who has charge of the soldiers in training at the university spoke on the life of Col. Young as a "Soldier." Mrs. C. O. David represented the Neighborhood Club and Mr. D. T. Murray the student body. Miss L. S. Hammond sang several solos. The music was furnished by the University quartet. Mr. F. G. Scott acted as Master of Ceremony. The meeting closed with singing a Negro National Anthem.

All calves must be insured at the purchase price. An effort will be made to dispose of the calves for the club members advantageously.

Bases of awards: Awards will be made upon the calves and upon the record books and story separately.

VIOLENCE FAILS TO BREAK OUT

London, March 13.—The wave of violence which, it was feared, might sweep India as a result of the arrest of Mohandas Gandhi, chief nationalist leader and his colleague, Mahatma Shankerlal, has failed to materialize, according to dispatches from India today. Only one minor outbreak was reported.

A dispatch from Lahore to the Daily Telegraph said that Gandhi welcomed arrest as a protection against overzealous followers who were insisting upon an aggressive campaign against the British rule.

The same dispatch reported a slight outbreak in the village of Udaipur, in the Hardeo district where policemen killed two Indians. The police had been surrounded by a threatening mob.

Gandhi and Shankerlal have expressed willingness to plead guilty to sedition when placed on trial. They have already had a preliminary hearing said an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Bombay.

BELIEVE AMATEUR KILLED BRUNEN

Riverside, N. J., March 13.—Belief that the assassin of John T. Brunen, circus owner and showman, lay in wait tonight, aided by accomplices who watched the victim's house and signalled by flashes of motor car headlights to his expressed today by neighbors of the slain man.

The occupants of a farm house in the vicinity state that for some time prior to the murder, a car would back each night into a nearby lane and switch out its headlights. Later, they said, the lights would flash repeatedly as though in code.

Ellis Parker, Camden county detective, today said he believes the crime was committed by an amateur, who greatly disliked to do it. The use of a double barreled shotgun, he said, indicated the lack of finesse which a professional killer exhibits.

Brunen it was ascertained today was in the past an associate of William Fox motion picture producer, with whom he owned a number of concessions at Coney Island. Fox later sold out his interests to Brunen.

PERSHING'S ADVICE IS NOT ACCEPTED

Washington, March 13.—Disregarding the advice of General Pershing and other high army officers, the house appropriations committee today fixed the size of the American army at not more than 11,000 officers and 115,000 men.

No provision for the pay and maintenance of a greater number was contained in the army supply bill, reported out, and certain of passage.

The evident intent of congress to slash all along the line in military and naval appropriations was noted again in a provision of the bill designed to force the return of American troops from China.

THE EVER PRESENT THREAT OF COAL MINERS STRIKE.

If no way is found to reconcile the differences between the operators and the miners, the country may then look forward to a cessation of work by all union coal miners on April 1. This does not mean that the wheels of industry must, beginning with that date, stand still, or even after the supplies laid up by manufacturing concerns in anticipation of this event are used up. The present normal consumption of bituminous coal in the United States is about 7,000,000 tons weekly. Under the drive of war-time needs this production was increased for a short time to 15,000,000 tons weekly. About 30 per cent of the bituminous miners are non-unionized, and it is expected that they will keep at work even in the event of a general strike and that they may produce as much as 4,000,000 tons per week. Such an amount of new production, when reinforced by the enormous accumulations of coal already mined—a result of the past year of acute industrial depression—should keep the wheels of industry moving fairly well, although there will be vast waste and confusion in the redistribution of transportation facilities following the closing down of more than half of the mines. It has been announced that the American Federation of Labor will support the coal miners in their strike, and in February they were attempting to make an active alliance with the railway labor unions.

Something must be done to change the whole system. No more tremendous and worthy task could be imagined for a man like Mr. Hoover. One set of men looks to an extension of government control, or even to government ownership, for a solution of the problem. A greater number, mindful of our experience in government operation of its shipping industry, feel that this would be jumping out of the frying pan into the fire.

OUR NEW POSTMASTER GENERAL.

President Harding is the first of the twenty-nine Presidents to select a man from the medical profession for a place in the cabinet. Perhaps this statement will start a controversy, but it is made with reasonable confidence.

Dr. Hubert Work, whose appointment as Postmaster General was announced last week, and who assumed charge of the Postoffice department last Saturday, has been a distinguished physician and is at this time the president of the American Medical Association. He becomes the second Colorado man ever to serve in the cabinet.

Dr. Work's appointment to the cabinet berth comes as a merited promotion, a recognition by the President of the exceptionally efficient service he has rendered for the past year as first assistant postmaster general.

Dr. Work, of course, was not selected for Postmaster General because of his eminence as a physician. His remarkable ability as an executive and organizer and his personal qualities commended him for the high place. Postmaster General Hays drafted Dr. Work for first assistant because of his demonstrated executive ability and this ability, together with a year's experience in the Postoffice Department, commended him to the President for promotion to the cabinet berth.

Dr. Work has demonstrated there is, after all, something in a name. He works. Indeed, he is a hard worker—a tireless worker. He worked hard in the practice of his profession, and he has been an especially hard worker during the past year as first assistant postmaster general. He has made good with his name. He is a new worker in President Harding's hard-working cabinet.

HIGH TARIFF MEANS PROTECTION TO HOME INDUSTRY.

The United States leads the world in wages, because the American home market is the best market in the world—made so in the years of Republican control of the government, during which the protective policy was in effect and the great industrial power of this country was developed.

To continue to lead in wages and in comforts of life for the every day man the American home market must be guarded, through the application of the protective policy, against invasion by the cheap money, cheap labor products of foreign lands in which wages, the purchasing power of wages and standards of living are lower than they are in America.

There never was substantial basis for the theory that the higher scale of wages and living in the United States was due to higher productive power per man in America as compared with foreign lands. The American wage earner is not more industrious or more efficient, on the whole, than the German or French wage earner. The productive power of a Chinese wage earner in the twelve hours of his employment in a Hankow steel mill is not greater than that of an American wage earner during an eight hour shift in a Pennsylvania steel plant. The pretense that the facts are otherwise is just plain bunk.

The enemy of the American protective policy is ready to suggest any remedy but the only real and practical one for the defense of American producers against the destructive effects of competition based upon the cheap labor and cheap materials of foreign lands. The pretense that American productive industry can be kept going in open and direct competition with the out put of plants in foreign lands where labor costs are but a fraction of the same costs here, is too preposterous to command serious consideration by people of common sense.

The average American consumes 90 pounds of sugar annually.

Freight traffic on the Mississippi River is carried in steel barges 300 feet in length.

Over 15,000 post offices in this country have been discontinued in the past twenty years.

Between three and four years is the average life of a savings account in American banks.

More typewriting machines are used in the United States than in all the rest of the world.

Resources of the national banks of the United States, exclusive of rediscounts, amount to $19,420,000,000.

Canada, with nearly 40,000 miles of railways, has a larger per capita mileage than any other country in the world.

United States leads the world in the use of chewing gum, Canada is second and in England the sale is steadily growing.

THE EFFORTS OF THE ALCHEMISTS TO TRANSFORM BASER METALS INTO GOLD WERE FORSAKEN YEARS AGO.

One of the indications of the general prosperity of the community at this time, is the large number of deals in real estate. Many farms are being sold and all of them are bringing good prices.

Thomas Montgomery, 31, Fairfield, is in a critical condition in St. Elizabeth Hospital as the result of injuries received in a fight on Dunbar avenue, Dayton, Sunday afternoon.

He is suffering from a fractured skull and has been unconscious since receiving the injury. Marcelus Frederick, 22, colored, of 253 Dunbar avenue, has been arrested by the Dayton police on a charge of assault and battery in connection with the case, and if Montgomery dies a charge of murder will probably be placed against him.

Dayton police say Montgomery was at Frederick's home when an argument started, and Frederick is said to have thrown Montgomery down a flight of stairs to the sidewalk, fracturing his skull. Both had been drinking police say.

My stomach was all upset and there were times after eating when I had a mean, stuffy feeling and felt I would give the world if I could just get one long breath. IS YOUR FOOT PERFECT?

Are your feet perfect? If so, you are one woman in a thousand according to foot specialists. If so, it is worth any amount of care on your part to keep them so.

The feet need not be small in order to be considered perfect. In fact, in all the most beautiful examples of Greek sculpture, the feet are made comparatively large. Otherwise they would not seem able to carry the weight of the body. It was the Chinese who introduced the idea that small feet were beautiful, which still influences Western civilization.

The perfect foot is fairly long, slender in proportion to its length, with a high instep and a narrow heel. The toes should be fairly long and should lie straight and end in nails as perfectly developed as the nails of the hand.

No foot can remain perfect if it is badly shod. Shoes that draw the toes together will cause the big toe joint to enlarge and will help break the arch of the foot. Shoes that are too short will make the toes curl under, and the sensitive toe nails will be deformed. Shoes with very high heels will throw the feet out of position and bring on the broken arches. Shoes that are too small will stop the circulation, and shoes that are too large

Rippling Rhymes

RAIN AND DROUTH.

The water's piled in my front yard, all kinds of water, soft and hard, and still the rain comes slopping down, and saturates the weary town. The rain against the window beats, and catfish through the village streets, and even frogs and ducks are tired; they have more rain than they desired. And while the day's so wildly wet, I read the Gophertown Gazette, the old home paper that has brought for years its freight of Gems of Thought. And back in Gophertown, it seems, all dried up are the babbling streams there is no water in the wells; aparching population yells for just a little slice of rain, and all its yelling is in vain. No rain clouds gather in the sky, the river beds are dusty dry, while fish sit up along the brink and gasp for something fit to drink. The weather bureau should reform; why does it always send a storm where there should be a cloudless sky, and send a drouth where it is dry? Why does it drench the western coast, and dodge the plains that need rain most? Why am I always stuck in mud, or battling through a turbid flood, while other fellows voice their wrath because they cannot have a bath? The weather bureau makes me tired; all winter long it's kept me mired.

Anna Q. Nilsson

Sweeping before you are scenes of surpassing strength, wherein the lives of two men and two women are bound and shattered by two unbreakable oaths—one of love, one denying love. From them spring emotions undeniably true, and drama of virile power and exquisite charm. Never before has a story come so vividly to the screen as R. A. Walsh's adaptation of "Idols" by William J. Locke.

AGRICULTURE

Friction has sometimes arisen between the farmer and the small town merchant serving the locality in which the farmer's land is situated. Recent prices for farm products, at odds with retail prices, have greatly aggravated the smoldering hostility which thrives most where both sides feel a smarting sense of injustice. During and after the war charges of profiteering flew thick and fast, and neither the merchant nor the farmer escaped the fusillade.

Fortunately, the differences between the farmer and his local hardware merchant, implement dealer, and coal man are diminishing in number and importance. Farm prices are rising to levels which permit buying at the reduced levels which implement concerns, fertilizer companies, and other producers and distributors dependent on the farmer have established for their wares. As for profiteering the retailer has undoubtedly been the target for much unfair criticism and the total amount of retail profiteering has been overestimated, it is reported the results of Attorney-General Daugherty's price investigation indicate.

There is some recognition, too, of the expense arising from the credit accommodation and the service which the local distributor gives. Merely to have goods at hand when they are needed is a service for which the farmer must expect to pay. It is manifestly unfair that he should buy all goods for which he can afford to wait a week or two from the mail order house and then rush pell-mell to the local hardware store for a box of bolts, expecting to buy them as cheaply as from the large distributor 500 miles away, whose expense is much less in proportion to his volume of business.

Cooperation between the merchant and the farmer is needful for the good of both. The merchant serves the farmer in a legitimate way, and the farmer in turn is indispensable to the small town merchant. The merchant should keep prices at their minimum and the farmer should pay any reasonable price for the privilege of driving only a few miles and himself choosing from a varied stock the goods he needs.

According to some private estimates the American farmer is $50,000,000 richer by reason of the 40-cent a bushel advance in wheat and $400,000,000 richer by reason of the 30-cent a bushel advance in corn. The city is that the farmer should have had to let go of his wheat, last fall, taking what he could get.

The public is consuming less beef than it did ten years ago, and the effect upon the price of cattle is very marked and manifest. Meatless days during the war and the aggressive advertising of meat substitutes, combined with solemn declarations by some health authorities that Americans were eating too much meat, have diverted the average appetite in to new channels. Meat, if eaten with judgment, is nutritious and sustaining. The growing interests favor an Eat-More-Meat campaign to put beef back on the map.

STOCKS

Most brokerage houses take a constructive position with reference to the market, notwithstanding its lapse during frequent sessions into uncertain fluctuations. The market may be regarded as having reflected actual industrial improvement or as discounting future improvement due this coming spring and next fall. Doubtless it has done both. For the long pull the trend is distinctly upward. Whether the list can advance from its present level until business activity quickens is another question. The advance thus far is soundly based on trade improvement, or hopes of trade improvement that probably will not be disappointed. Bonds continue to pursue their even course, evincing much strength.

GRAIN

Wheat suffered a reverse largely as the result of improvement in crop conditions and heavy selling at Liverpool. That wheat is headed down does not follow as a safe conclusion, for the reason that its gains are based on world conditions of supply and demand. Reserves are not more than adequate for actual needs, and traders felt that the government report on farm reserves at the mid week could not change the fundamental situation. Corn has been sold for export freely, as heretofore, with country offerings restricted. Reactions in both corn and wheat are inevitable, but the higher levels are evidently here for an extended sojourn.

LIVESTOCK

Cattle have been unresponsive in the main to the strength displayed in hogs and lambs. Feeder trade is vigorous, indicating that growers feel confidence in the future. Hogs reached new high levels for the season as the new month approached. Lambs reacted slightly, but are expected to maintain their gains for the most part because supply is easily controlled. Live exports have been large with prices rising, due to realization of a hog shortage foreign demand, and other factors. Exports of cured meats are in good volume.

WOOL

The government has sold its remaining 4,000,000 or more pounds of wool and gone out of the wool business, after regaining 85 per cent of its investment. Prices showed an advancing tendency at this last auction. Reports from the goods trade are not buoyant, although the American Woolen Company reports having orders on hand sufficient to keep it running well into the summer. Buying of the new clip in the West slowed down a few weeks ago, when Eastern factors began to think that prices were too high, and are proceeding slowly. Speculation has vanished for the time. Continued quiet is expected until the mills re-enter the market.

COTTON

Various factors have supported cotton, among them fear of boll weevil damage to the new crop. The mills have taken a large percentage of the last crop and the remainder and carryover from the previous season show a large proportion of inferior cotton. Stocks of goods are much depleted, it is argued, and the new crop is in danger of getting a late start. On the other hand, foreign demand is not overly brisk and the domestic mills are handicapped by strikes. Cotton does not seem in line for a sustained advance.

METALS

Pik iron and steel production continues rising. A softening in prices has been very evident, but recently a tendency toward firmness is manifest in some directions. Business is increasing with the advance of the season.

BASEBALL CLUB HOLDS FIRST PRACTICE OF YEAR

The "Bayliffs" held their first practice, Sunday afternoon at the Washington Street park, a number of players showing up, giving promise of a successful season.

A meeting of the club was held at the Bayliff Electric Shop, Saturday afternoon, when plans for the season were made. Although the games have not been definitely scheduled, several good teams are in view.

With the Giants at San Antonio.

Lots of speed—later on. The pitching staff of the New York Giants, world's baseball champions, are working out the kinks in their Spring training camp at San Antonio, Texas. Here they are seen in their first "warm-up" of the pre-season era. Soreness already has been worked out of the pitching arms of this whirlwind crew, but famous arms of famous twirlers are being nursed along with care. The lower panel shows three rookies, who hope to land berths with McGraw's clan. Roy Gillenwater and Frank Samide are after backstop berths, while Walter Kopl seeks and infield position.

SABINA WINS TROPHY AT WILMINGTON MEET

Defeating Wilmington High School in the finals Saturday night, Sabina High basketball team won the trophy, offered by Wilmington College in the inter-county tournament held there Saturday.

Sabina had previously won the county tournament and then found its way through the semi-finals of the inter-county affair by defeating Xenia Central Saturday afternoon 24 to 22, after Xenia had defeated Jamestown High 18 to 15 in the morning rounds.

Xenia had Sabina defeated 16 to 6, at the end of the half in the Xenia-Sabina game in the semi-finals Saturday afternoon. It began to look as if the game was one ice when the blue and white five entered the second period, but the Sabina five started a drive that changed the entire complexion of the game. In this game as well as the Sabina-Wilmington game at night, the Sabina athletes seemed unable to miss a shot from any other angle or any distance, while hard-luck on shooting seemed to camp on the trail of their opponents in both games.

FINE IS INCREASED

FORWARD STEP IS TAKEN BY SCHOOL

What is thought to be a forward step in the advancement of athletics at the University of Dayton, were taken Sunday, by the athletic board of the institution, when it announced that Van Hill, Cleveland, and at present athletic director of Cleveland, West Tech, which has had marked success, will have charge of athletics at the Dayton school starting next fall.

Hill will have charge of football, basketball, and track, but will be assisted in coaching the grid game by Harry Baujan, former Notre Dame star, who played end and tackle for the Catholics in 1913-1914 and 1915, and was an All-American selection of Walter Eckersall and who assisted Knute Rockne as coach at the school in 1916.

The engagement of Van Hill, who is rated as an organizer, is expected to aid greatly in giving the school an athletic system, something it has lacked. Hill starred in football and basketball at the University of Southern California. He coached Lincoln High at Los Angeles one year, before entering the army, and on his return took charge of athletics at West Tech, Cleveland. The Dayton football squad for next fall includes games with Cedarville, Earlham, St. Xavier, Rose Poly Camisias St. Ignatius, Wilmington and Delaware.

HUNDRED MILLIONS SPENT FOR BUTTONS EVERY YEAR

The people of the United States pay an average of $100,000,000 a year for buttons and have sent $16,000,000 worth abroad since the beginning of the war.

The history of the button industry in the United States, since the war cut off our principal source of foreign buttons, drawn chiefly from Germany and Austria-Hungary, is says the Trade Record of The National City Bank of New York, one of great activity both in home production and exportation. In the year before the war the value of the buttons turned out by our factories was $20,000,000, while a census statement, recently announced shows the value of the output of our button factories in 1919 the latest census year, $43,000,000 and experts in that industry estimate that the sum paid for the "final consumer" in the United States was about $100,000,000. The total number of buttons turned out by the factories of the United States in 1919 is stated by the census at 69,323,000 gross, or equivalent to practically 10,000,000,000 buttons.

BRITISH STEEL FIRMS HARD HIT BY WORK OF ARMS CONFERENCE

London.—With Great Britain in the midst of its worst grade depression the results of the Washington conference for disarmament have come as a blow to British steel and armament manufacturers.

"I welcome the decision of the Washington conference, but I think something should be done to allow our armament firms to retain their plant so as to have it available if it ever be required in the future," said Arthur Balfour, head of a large Sheffield steel firm, in discussing the effects of the disarmament movement.

The decisions to scrap naval vessels have caused a certain amount of unemployment, Balfour said, but he accepted this as inevitable. He pointed out that the British nation is unable to afford anything which is unproductive, even though it may afford a certain amount of unemployment. It is necessary for Great Britain to reserve her capital for productive purposes, which in the long run will bring more employment than would come from the expenditure of money on the construction of ships, Balfour declared.

British armament workers though accepting the disarmament measures with good grace, are perplexed as to the new fields of endeavor to which they shall turn. There has been some worry caused among British manufacturers because of the fact that American firms, which were at one time engaged in the manufacture of armament, have turned their plants over to the manufacture of cutlery—a field which has been largely dominated by displeasure to British manufacturers that large war plants in Germany are now turning out cutlery. British armament firms are engaged in many peace-time experiments, perhaps the most successful of which is that of locomotive construction by Armstrong, Whitworth & Company, Cammell, Laird & Co., former armament manufacturers, are now reported to be progressing in the manufacture of all steel railroad cars. The biggest variety of peace manufactures has been undertaken by Vickers, Ltd., whose new industries range from all phases of the electrical industry and carriage and wagon building to the making of washing machines and even mechanical toys.

The close of the war took many British manufacturers into the sloughs of industrial depression, but now comes the disarmament movement, which threatens an even worse industrial upheaval for manufacturers in steel and armament during the coming months.

BUILD UP INDUSTRIES

Washington, March 1.—Faving the loss of various industries which sprang up during the war, and are now dying out in this country, various Government agencies are at work in an effort to build up the more valuable ones.

Among these defunct activities is the manufacture of optical glass in the United States. Most of this material came from foreign sources, especially Germany, prior to the war. When war interrupted the sources of supply an impetus was given manufacturing genius in the United States which has since gradually disappeared.

The optical industry is of value to the country not only for economic reasons, it is pointed out today by a naval official, but also for war purposes. "Without which supply our military and naval manufactures would be greatly hampered."

Accordingly, the navy particularly, is engaged in stimulating as much as possible the manufacture of optical glass in this country, in an endeavor to keep it alive.

The same applies to aircraft factories of private control. In an effort to encourage this invaluable source of defensive power the Navy, as well as the Army and other agencies, is lending every possible aid. The Navy itself has refrained from building its own planes in a desire to furnish occupation for an infant industry which has suffered seriously since the war robbed it of its market.

While gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant and you appear years younger. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully black and luxuriant. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use preparation improved by the addition of other ingredients a large bottle, at little cost, at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of fuss.

COLORED BASKETBALL TEAM ARRIVES FOR CONTEST MONDAY

The Chicago Defenders basketball team that will meet the Cincinnati Y. M. C. A. five at the Rink here, Monday night for the court championship of the midwest, arrived in Xenia, Monday morning at seven o'clock.

The Cincinnati team is not expected to arrive until later. The championship tilt will be preceded by a preliminary between the John Roan Post, American Legion team and the Springfield Olympics, which is scheduled to start at 7:30 o'clock. The big game will get under way at 8:30 o'clock.

Visiting aggregations of rooters for each team are expected to increase the attendance to the largest that ever witnessed a basketball game here. The Legion has gone to great expense to get the teams to play the rub-off of their championship series on the neutral court here, and much interest attaches to the outcome.

Lawrence Rachford, of this city, referee certified by the joint rules committee, who has been handling Legion games, will referee the contest. It is believed, as the Chicago team has already expressed itself favorably to Rachford handling the game. The Legion is offering a silver loving cup to the winner of the game to accompany the title of midwestern champions.

DESSERTS MADE WITH JAMS AND JELLIES

Several readers have written to ask me for recipes calling for jams and jellies. "My children will not eat jelly on bread," say some of these letters, "so I would appreciate recipes that would help me serve the jelly in an attractive guise." I believe the following will be of help:

Jelly Sponge: Turn one glass of jelly into a pint measure and fill up the measure with boiling water. Stir until the jelly is dissolved then add to it 1 tablespoon of granulated gelatin which has been softened in a very little cold water. Sweeten to taste with granulated sugar and turn the mixture into a mold that has been wet inside with cold water. Set the filled mold in a cool place for about one hour—or until the gelatin has begun to harden sufficient to adhere to the sides of the mold—then beat into it, with an egg beater, one egg-white which has been stiffly whipped. Now put the mold back in the cool spot until the mixture has solidified. Jelly Gelatine: Follow above given recipe, but simply omit beating the stiff egg-white into the hardening gelatine. Serve the gelatine topped with a sweetened egg-white stiffly beaten. If desired, apple sauce (about 1 tablespoon of it) may be whipped into the stiff egg-white, as well as the sugar; apple sauce helps the egg-white to hold its shape and also gives a delicious flavor.

Jelly Fruit Cup: Slice 2 bananas and 2 oranges into a dessert bowl and add 1 glass of jelly which you have previously dissolved in 2 cups of boiling water, strained through cheesecloth, and cooled. This dessert is good served just like this, or you may top it with the sweetened egg-white, stiffly beaten, with apple sauce added to it (this is called "apple snow").

Jelly Roll: Beat 3 eggs light, add to them gradually 1 cup of granulated sugar, 1-2 tablespoon milk, 1 cup flour mixed and sifted with 1 teaspoon baking powder and a pinch of salt, and last add 1 tablespoon of melted butter. Line the bottom of a large meat pan with thin wrapping paper, buttering this paper well. Then pour the batter on this and bake for 12 minutes in a moderate oven. When done, turn the pan upside down on a large piece of wrapping paper on a table and sprinkled thickly with powdered sugar, now quickly peel off the paper which is stuck fast to the bottom of the cake. Spread two full glasses of jelly (any kind of jelly will do) over this upturned cake bottom and roll up the cake at once. Letting the powdered paper help lift it and roll. Wrap this paper around the cake till cool. You must do the rolling very fast or the cake is apt to break!

Another way to use Jelly: Use it as a filling for cake, spreading it between the two layers of a simple white-cake recipe, and frost the top of the cake with uncooked confectioners' icing.

Jam may be used instead of jelly in any of these recipes. Indeed, preserves of any kind may be used in most of them.

Tomorrow—Answered Letters.

HELEN HUNTER'S HUSBAND

BY JANE PHELPS

HELEN EVADES JACK'S QUESTIONS CHAPTER 62

"I'll be ready in a minute," Jack returned when Helen urged him to hurry. "You sit down. I'll be right out!" Yet he lingered unaccountably over tidying himself.

Seated at the table he looked more closely at Helen. She plainly showed the strain she was under. Several times he started to speak to her of Barnes, but all he did was to wet his lips, then make some trite remark concerning the food.

Dinner over Helen at once took the paper and furtively glancing at him commenced to read.
